Article 5. Evaluation criteria and bid evaluation method

1) Evaluation criterion – parts 5 to 16:

The submitted bids will be evaluated according to the economic advantage of the bids according to the lowest bid price.

2) Bid Evaluation Method – parts 5 to 16:

The total bid price in CZK excluding VAT will be decisive for the evaluation. The contracting authority ranks the bids according to the bid price in CZK excluding VAT, from the cheapest to the most expensive bid. The offer with the lowest bid price will be evaluated best.

3) Evaluation criterion – parts 1 to 4:

The submitted bids will be evaluated according to the economic advantage of the bids based on the most advantageous ratio of the bid price and quality according to the evaluation criteria with weights:

Evaluation criteria	Weighting of the evaluation criterion
Offer price in CZK without VAT	70 %
Warranty period length in months	30 %

4) Evaluation method of bids in individual evaluation criteria – parts 1 to 4:

A. Within the evaluation criterion "Bid price in CZK excluding VAT", bids will be evaluated according to the bid price in CZK excluding VAT. The offer with the lowest numerical value in CZK excluding VAT will be considered the most advantageous offer.

B. Under the evaluation criterion "Length of warranty period in months", bids will be evaluated according to the highest guaranteed length for equipment quality in months. The minimum warranty period for the quality of the equipment is 12 months. The bid of a participant who offers a shorter warranty period will be excluded from further participation in the tender procedure. When evaluating bids under this evaluation criterion, a warranty of up to 36 months will be considered, while a higher guarantee offered will not be given a point advantage.

5) Within the evaluation criterion, where the lowest value bid is the most advantageous bid, 100 points will be assigned to the most advantageous bid, and points will be assigned to other bids according to the following formula:

$$\text{Score} = \frac{\text{The best offer}}{\text{Rated offer}} \times 100$$

Subsequently, the number of points achieved by each participant within a given evaluation criterion will be calculated by the weight of that criterion.

6) Within the evaluation criterion, where the most advantageous tender is the highest value bid, the most advantageous bid will be assigned 100 points and other bids will be assigned points according to the following formula:

$$\text{Score} = \frac{\text{Rated offer}}{\text{The best offer}} \times 100$$

Subsequently, the number of points achieved by each participant within a given evaluation criterion will be calculated by the weight of that criterion.

- 7) The overall evaluation is the sum of the point values of the individual criteria, which are multiplied by the weight of the given evaluation criterion. The best offer is the one that gets the highest total number of points.
- 8) The values of the individual quantifiable criteria will be stated by the participants for the purposes of the tender in the Cover Sheet of the Bid. The values of the evaluation criteria in the submitted draft of the Contract in the bid shall be added by the participant in accordance with its bid according to the given part of the public contract.
- 9) If two or more bids achieve the same total number of points, the bid that achieved the higher number of points in the evaluation criterion with a higher weight, i.e. in the bid price criterion in CZK excluding VAT, will be selected as the most advantageous.

Article 6. Requirements for the method of processing the bid price

- 1) The participant shall determine the bid price for proper and timely performance of the subject matter of the public contract. The participant sets the offer price in CZK or EUR.
- 2) The bid price is a fixed price, the maximum permissible. The bid price includes all costs of the participant necessary for the proper and timely performance of the subject matter of the public contract according to the tender conditions.
- 3) The amount of the bid price is independent of price developments and exchange rate changes. The offer price must also include the expected development of prices in the given field, including the expected development of the exchange rate of the Czech currency against foreign currencies. If the contracting authority allowed the bid price to be set in a currency other than CZK, i.e. EUR, it will be converted for the purposes of evaluation using the exchange rate of the Czech National Bank valid as of the last day of the deadline for submitting bids.
- 4) The participant is not entitled to condition the amount of the bid price with another condition. Conditioning the bid price, stating variants of the bid price and determining the amount of the bid price in a currency other than that stipulated in this Tender Documentation will be a reason for rejecting the bid of the participant and its subsequent exclusion from participation in the tender.
- 5) For the purposes of the tender, the bid price will be stated in CZK or EUR on the Bid Cover Sheet.
- 6) At the same time, the contracting authority points out to the participant that the evaluation committee may assess the amount of bid prices in relation to the subject matter of the public contract, i.e. it may assess whether the submitted bid does not contain an abnormally low bid price in relation to the subject matter of the public contract.

Article 7. Terms of trade

- 1) In its bid, the participant shall submit a draft contract for the performance of the subject matter of the contract according to the given part of the public contract (hereinafter referred to as the "Contract"), which will be signed by a person authorized to represent the participant. By submitting the bid, the participant undertakes to respect the contracting authority's terms and conditions set out in Annexes 2.01 to 2.04 according to the given part of the public contract. It shall make an
